

VERB PATTERNS

What are the verb patterns?

A verb is the action or state of being in a sentence. Verbs can be expressed in different tenses, depending on when the action is being performed. A word that characteristically is the grammatical center of a predicate and expresses an act, occurrence, or mode of being, that in various languages is inflected for agreement with the subject, for tense, for voice, for mood, or for aspect, and that typically has rather full descriptive meaning and characterizing quality but is sometimes nearly devoid of these especially when used as an auxiliary or linking verb. Here are some examples:

Example: Kate walked to the store. In this sentence, walked is the verb that shows an action.

Verb Examples

- The wind is blowing from the opposite side today.
 - I love reading books.
 - I've always seen him reading a book since the day I met him.
 - I didn't know you loved books so much.
 - I read more poetry when I am alone.
 - It's time to write a poetry book.
 - I run to work every day.
-
- If you ride a bicycle, you will take a new step towards healthy living.
 - There are such wars that I hate the world.
 - I don't want children to die anymore.
 - Education should be provided as the right of every individual.
 - I always get excited when I see him.
 - Love can make me a poet, but I'm so cold from love.
 - I also pretend to be deaf to certain events.